Medical Director: Mark Murphy, MD, MS
Education: Austin, Texas and Northwest Seminars, Phoenix, Arizona

Target Audience: This course is designed for physicians, physician assistants, advanced practice registered nurses, and all other medical care providers who must maintain the knowledge of the specialty or are impacted by it.

Program Purpose: The goal of emergency medicine must possess evidence-based scientific background for competent clinical practice; maintain state-of-the-art knowledge of the specialty and all additional related disciplines; maintain an up-to-the-minute armamentarium of knowledge and skills for the selection and use of evidence-based pharmacological agents, and promote the development and surveillance of adverse events. The objective of this activity is to promote the advancement of emergency medical care so as to improve the quality and safety of emergency health care delivery and support of other service providers, departments, institutions, and organizations dependent upon professional expertise. Presentations are designed to facilitate the acquisition of cognitive and technical skills as defined through evidence-based data translated to best practice standards by the pertinent governmental and professional organizations including the American College of Emergency Physicians, American College of Surgeons and the Emergency Nurses Association.

Objectives: At the conclusion of this activity, the participant will be able to:

- Apply the pertinent physical and behavioral sciences as they impact and are affected by planning, delivering, and monitoring of services for the patient population.
- Explain the selection, dosing considerations with methods of administration, safe use, contraindications and adverse reactions of drugs based on the chemical and pharmacological properties of the drug.
- Outline comprehensive patient management plans for the special patient population
- Apply the principles of safety and sepsis in the performance of all aspects of patient management in the clinical practice of medicine.
- Incorporate the published tenets of pertinent, recognized external organizations, institutions, and professional groups defining medical, legal, philosophic, ethical and health care management standards.

Accreditation: This activity has been approved and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint providence of The A. Webb Roberts Center for Continuing Medical Education of Baylor Scott & White Health and Northwest World Wide Travel. The A. Webb Roberts Center for Continuing Medical Education of Baylor Scott & White Health is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.
